

“The Fleecing Of American Martial Artists”

By Jeff Green, Renshi Edited by Jerry A. Chenault

The American Budo Society is a group of like-minded people who have one goal in mind. That goal is to share martial arts knowledge and to help our members. We are not and will not be a part of the “fleecing” that is common with many other organizations. We have high ranking instructors across the globe, and these instructors have a vast array of martial art systems and styles. And they can be there to help you! We have broken from the norm and have created an organization that does what so many others claim to do...but we back it up! We really can help you!

Here’s one way the American Budo Society can help you and your school. First, we don’t over charge for certificates. We feel strongly that no one should be denied a deserved promotion just because they cannot pay the exorbitant fees many organizations extract from their members. Many organizations charge several hundred dollars for this service. We never will. And we also strongly believe in the autonomy of the local instructor. That’s a novel concept these days. When we charter an instructor and school we make sure they deserve our trust...and from that point on we trust their authority to make promotions in their own school. That’s autonomy and it’s the right of an instructor. Why would other organizations not do this? We bet you’ve already figured that out, and we also bet it has a dollar sign on it!

Here’s another way we can help you. We don’t require travel. Of course, you’re more than welcome to visit our organization and its members; however, many of our founders have been in other organizations that REQUIRED their members to travel somewhere and pay some large fee to log in so many hours doing techniques they often already knew in front of someone who wasn’t really even watching...you get the point. The fact that our instructors have local autonomy removes the need for required travel expenses.

The sad truth is that many organizations seem to be solely about money and fame, and the result is a fleecing of their members. The members often don't really even realize that it can be any better than it is. But it can. We are about helping people.

We really are! When you're with us you aren't all alone any more. And you aren't trapped anymore. You can stand up for yourself and your school and also see a real improvement in your situation. We did. See what all the fuss is about! We are waiting to hear from you!
